Motherhood (Prairie Home Companion (Audio))

Synopsis

Collected from live radio broadcasts of A Prairie Home Companion, these humorous and heart-warming stories and songs celebrate the ups and downs of motherhood. Includes the News from Lake Wobegon, and guest appearances from Robin and Linda Williams, Inga Swearingen, Vern Sutton, Prudence Johnson, the Rankin Family, and more.ï¿½ She brought you forth out of the cloud of genetics and fed and clothed you and taught you to wipe yourself and say Please and Thank You and never expected you to pay her back, only that you behave appropriately and try to make something of yourself and not land in prison but if you had, she'd love you because after all she's your Mother.ï¿½ Â Â Â Â Â Â -Garrison Keillor

I love Garrison Keillor's stories and have most of his cds. Since the name is "Mother", I was expecting warm, cozy stories about childhood, mothers and apple pies - but they are a little more harsh than that. It's more directed towards older people whose mother's drive them absolutely crazy. I wouldn't get it for my mom for Mother's Day, though - unless she has a REALLY good sense of humor!

I love the show. I am a loyal fan but this whole series is poorly edited with barely average sound quality.Sent them all back. Just not worth it and a big disappointment. Turn on the radio.

I always like Garrison Keillor material. He covers so many topics with great wisdom, humor and of course his deep understanding and ability to express these. This CD was one of those.
